PRESIDENT HOPES COLLEGE HAS 'WILL TO DO, SOUL TO DARE'

will to do and the soul to dare." One of the greatest challenges will be to meet the educational needs of a culturally and geographically diverse region. A key will be to establish ties with other institutions of higher education, primary and secondary schools, parents and the communities in the area.

During his inauguration as second president of Cal State, San Bernardino Tuesday, Dr. Anthony H. Evans quoted Sir Walter Scott in expressing hope the college would have "the Guest speaker Justice James Brickley of the Michigan State Supreme Court traced the trends in education from its "golden years" in the 1950s to the dip in enrollment and public support occurring in the 1980s. The leadership of President Evans, who has strong experience in education and government, will help the college meet the needs of this decade, he said.

Speaking on behalf of faculty, staff, students and alumni were Dr. Joe Bas (Faculty Senate), Janice Lemmond (Purchasing), Elise Traynum (Associated Students) and Kathryn Fortner (Alumni Association). Dr. Loren Filbeck and Keating Johnson directed the Concert Choir and Wind Ensemble.

A 40-foot, canvas mural, a rendering of the college logo, was created for the occasion by Howard Dexter (Music), who received his B.A. in art from the college in 1980. The new mace crafted by Mark Petherbridge, senior art major, under the direction of Roger Lintault (Art), will be displayed for all to see as soon as a stand is constructed.

A THANK YOU

I would like to express my appreciation to all of those individuals at the college who helped make my inauguration so successful. To each of you who assisted with the planning and implementation of the inaugural activities, I thank you. I am grateful also to each of you who attended the ceremony and reception and in that way helped make the event truly memorable. May 17 will always be a very special date for Lois and me.
